Queen Elizabeth met many of her citizens as she travelled around, clip clop, clip clop

This is the story of the most surprising visit of them all...

Suddenly there was a strange, whirring and clanking noise.

Out of nowhere a time machine landed!

The door of the time machine swung open, and Batman appeared!

Queen Elizabeth I was VERY surprised!

First, Batman showed the Queen his moves; AIEEEE, POW,ARRRGH,AWK!

Then the Queen whispered to Batman:

“Could you use your brain power to solve a tricky problem, should I ever marry?”

Batman thought and solved the Queen’s question. He whispered:

“No Your Majesty, you should not marry.”

“GOSH!” the Queen exclaimed

After that, Batman presented Queen Elizabeth I with a special gift in a big box.

What was inside?

It was a distress signal device!

Batman said to the Queen:

“If you ever needed help, you should send a bat signal.”

Queen Elizabeth was really pleased with her gift.

Suddenly, the time machine started whirring.

The cogs clicked, clanked and rumbled.

Batman said goodbye and climbed back into the machine.

Then all of a sudden, the time machine was GONE!

The Queen was left totally amazed!

What an exciting visit!
