

Today we are Document Detectives!

1.

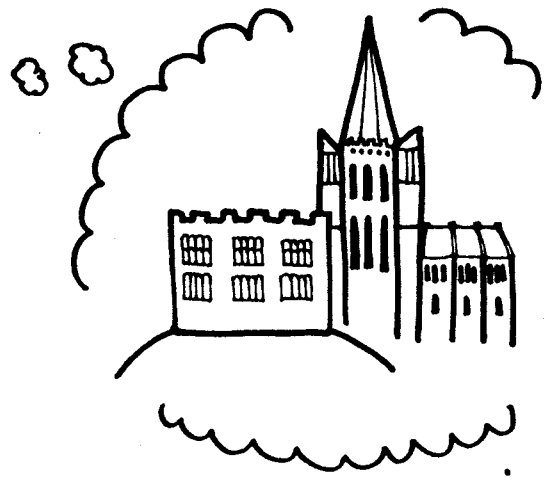

In 1578

2.

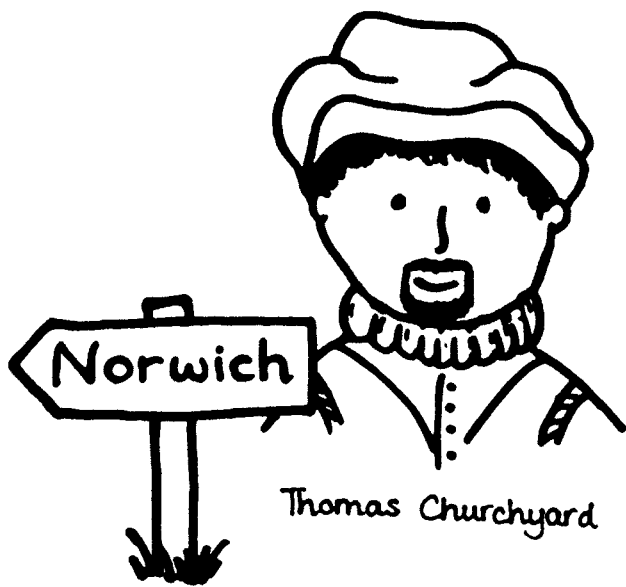

Queen Elizabeth I

3.

wanted to visit Norwich.

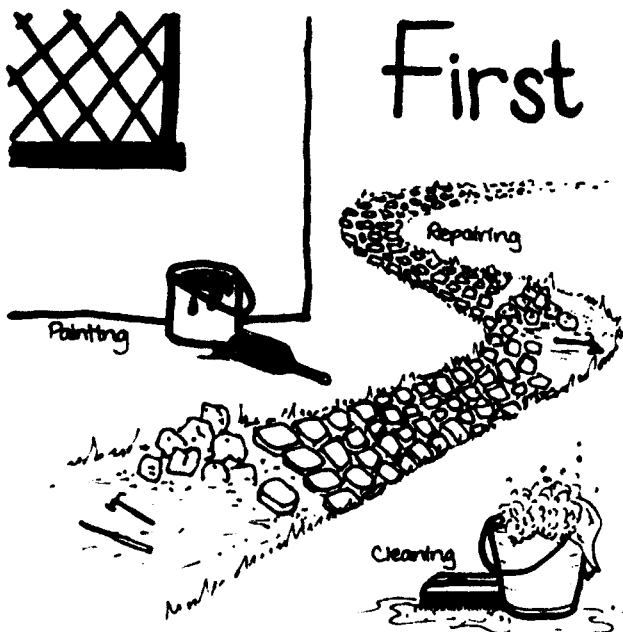

4.

5. She sent a man called Thomas Churchyard to arrange her visit.

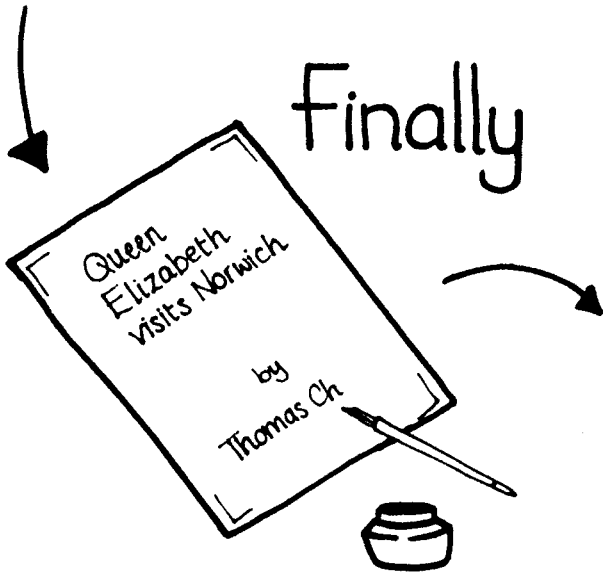

6. In Norwich, Thomas was met by the Mayor, who said, "Welcome, please help us prepare for a royal pageant."

7. Thomas said, "First you will need to clean, repair and paint the city."

8. "Then we will create some poetry, music and drama."

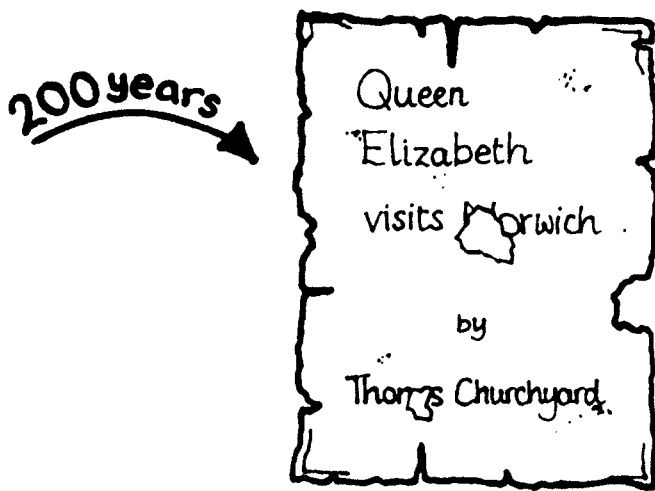

Finally, Thomas promised to write a document so everyone would remember how Norwich put on a royal pageant.

9.

Thomas' document was kept at The Guildhall.

10.

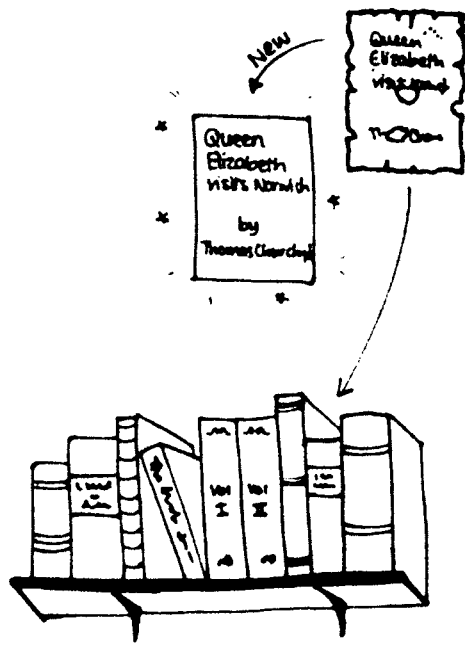

200 years later the document was very old and fragile.

11.

Oh
no!

OH NO!

12.

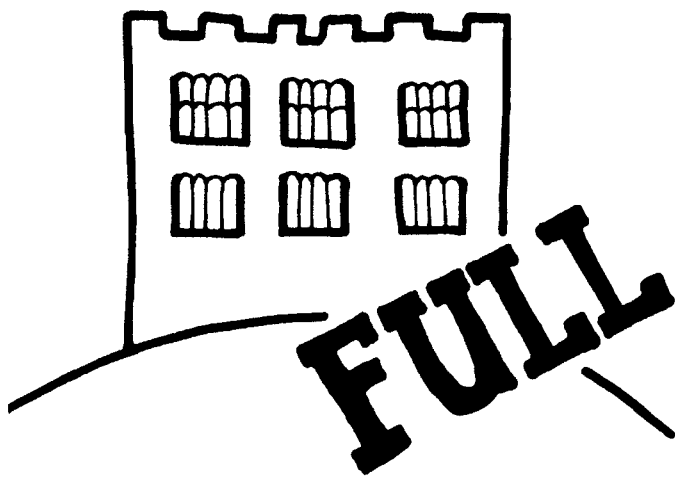

So the document was copied and stored in a special room in Norwich Castle.

13.

Oh no!

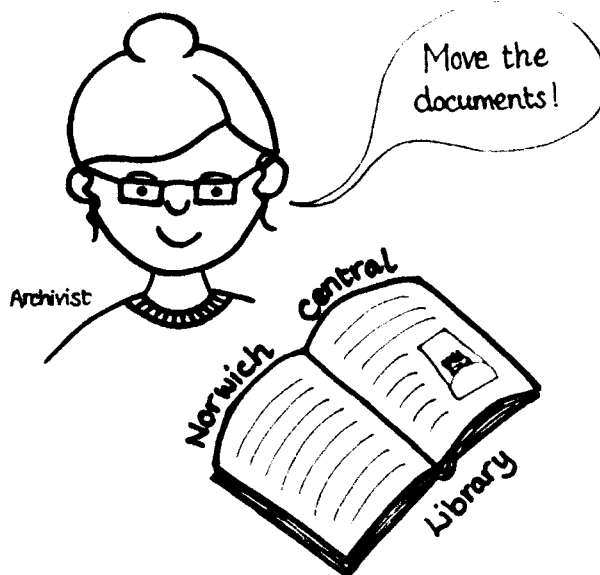

OH NO!

14.

100 years later, the room at Norwich Castle was FULL!

15.

So an 'Archivist' put the document into an even larger room at Norwich Central Library 16.

Oh
no!

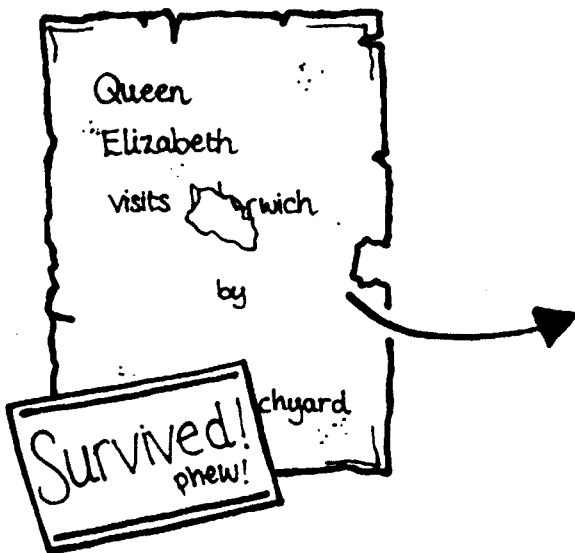

OH NO! Disaster struck!

Norwich Central Library caught fire.

17.

18.

Luckily many documents survived the fire.

Hooray!

They were sent to Archive Centre at the NRO, which is a very safe building indeed.
HOORAY!
